WEEKLY REPORT
14.12.07

For Group:

We have done Gui for user login and edit profile, implemented expert database queries, also constructed the very basic messaging system.

Caner:

This week I have also worked on prototype. I have done some GUI for user login and edit profile. In addition I have implemented expert database queries and made transactions according to them. Now expert scan be found according to their interests. Next week I will start for the final design report and help my friends (Kutlu & Serhat) with presentation.

Yağız:

This week I have worked on the prototype. I have done database connection part of that prototype. I have done Prototype's signing up and logging in sections and all the work related with this part (e.g. if the user is signed up log him in, the user can edit his profile, he can search for an expert) with Caner. Next week I will work on the classes of our jsp in the prototype and analyze the final design reports of the last year.

Kutlu:

I worked on the messaging and solved some basic problems about messaging with serhat. We will continue to work on the instant messaging issue, considering the Asynchronous JavaScript and XML.

Serhat:

I have tried to solve some packet send and receive problems about messaging with kutlu. We have done it except the ajax problems. Next week we'll continue over this issue.
