

WEEKLY REPORT

FREELANCERS

28.12.2007

Yağız:

This week I have looked through last year's final design reports and tried to understand what we have to additionally include in our report. For the prototype I have done some improvements. I am putting some non-class code segments into classes to use them easily. Also I have helped Serhat while preparing his presentation. Next week I will mostly deal with completing the final design report.

Caner:

This week I continue to search importing existing profiles from other sites like Facebook, cember.net etc. I found an application (Spacelift) for Facebook that gathers information from a given MySpace URL. I have read some forums for this application and users comments for improvement which may be useful for us to improve. Presentations are started on Tuesday and I also tried to help my friends(Kutlu and Serhat) with their presentations. Some little changes on GUI for the prototype and in database are done with Yağız. Till next Friday I want to finish the work with the information gathering and come up with a solution for implementation and start to update design report according to the changes made from initial design till that day.

Serhat:

This week we designed the presentation with kutlu and yağız and caner helped us.

Kutlu:
