FREELANCERS
WEEKLY REPORT#7
12.04.2008

Group (this week):

This week we shared the all items once more on the way of the version 2, and started to work on these issues.

Serhat:

After Demo, I have searched an alternative to Smack because of enigmatic situtations like the way of one-to-one communication. Also, I have found some Jabber client API s. However, we decided to attemp to fix our problems for a couple of day as Freelancers. If all attempts will be unsuccessful then I will integrate new API s and implement chat classes on one of these API s.

Caner:

This week I have searched for supplementary functions for facebook import and how can we improve it. Also I have completed some management on database.

Yağız:

This week I have prepared the short term plan for a part of version2. Then I have written protypes of the new classes that are assigned to other people. Also I have started searching for how to use fulltext search in Mysql.

Kutlu:

This week I have started to write the profileFacory class and the other profile related and friend related classes. In addition, I am slightly working on the search algorithms to find reasonable results for a search string.

Group (next week):

Serhat will try to fix Smack problems. If all attempts will be unsuccessful then he will integrate new API s and implement chat classes on one of these API s. Caner will start to implement profile functions and do some researches about facebook. If there is an option for photo importation he will begin to try it. Yağız will be dealing with Fultext searches and user search part of the search module. Kutlu will finish the profile factory classes.