

This week as a team

This week we prepared for presentation. We also prepared visual demo for participants.

Next week as a team

We are going to give last tasks to everyone finish their responsibilities.

---

M.Arif Uğurel

This week I started to code J2ME Client. In addition to this I am going to create sessions to carry chat objects on it for preparation in multiple chat.

Ruslan Abdulla

This week I tried to implement css codes on our project and change interface according to these source codes but it seems to be hard since all JavaScript codes belonging to pages displayed on modal box popup are in main page and since these codes shares some common properties and since current interface is not so bad for now I am going to look at chat without refresh which vital for our project.