

This week as a team

We came together and shared common problems that we have faced with. To come up with this we assigned team members for help to another one.

Next week as team

We are going to come together and combine all codes.

M.Arif Uğurel

I almost finished half of the implementation of J2ME Client. Moreover, I did all functionalities for chatting in order to chat without refreshing.

Ruslan Abdulla

By modifying some source codes from the net I prepared some piece of code and gave Arif to finish chatting without doing post back i.e. refreshing. Thus chatting is done with nicely user friendly interface.
