Progress:

This week, I worked on first mid quest that connect the first task to second task in level one. In this mid quest, character should cross over some rivers, on which there floats some objects(wood etc., according to visuals). This objects are already on river when character comes to that place, and they are move horizontally on river. I wrote a script for that part. Also, I planned the scene, but I will add this part to main project since we all work on the same project and make additions sequentially.
